Dear Ms. Rodgers,

Thank you for writing and for allowing us this opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to workplace health and safety, including protection from workplace bullying and harassment.

Canadian workers, including those governed by federal legislation, should be protected from bullying and harassment at the workplace. That's why the New Democratic Party (NDP) of Canada brought forward Bill C-348, the Workplace Psychological Harassment Prevention Act to amend the Canada Labour Code.

An NDP government lead by Tom Mulcair would extend full workplace health and safety protections to workers under federal jurisdiction. The NDP would commit to reviewing and re-opening the Canada Labour Code in a tripartite manner to ensure these protections are in place.

Thank you for your active support for this important issue.

Regards,

New Democratic Party of Canada
